

PRIVACY POLICY

John Paul AC (Trade name, “John Paul A/C Units Fix. Cont. LLC”), are committed to protecting the privacy of visitors to our Website. It is important that our users understand how we collect, use and disclose Personal Information (as defined below). John Paul AC has implemented technical, administrative, and physical measures to safeguard any personal information that we may collect.

This Privacy Notice describes our practices related to Personal Information collected through the Websites and Apps unless there is a separate privacy notice for a particular website or mobile application.

John Paul AC has a separate General Privacy Notice that covers Personal Information that John Paul AC may collect and process separate and apart from its Websites and Apps. If you apply for a job through this Website, John Paul AC’s use of the Personal Information you provide through the Careers section is governed by John Paul AC’s Job Applicant Privacy Notice found in that Careers section, and not this Privacy Notice. See John Paul AC’s Cookies Policy for information about cookies on our Website.

What Personal Information does John Paul AC collect? How does John Paul AC collect such Personal Information?

“Personal Information” is information through which a natural person is identifiable or may be identified. John Paul AC collects, uses and processes your Personal Information in order to provide you with services, products or information that you request.

The collection of Personal Information will be transparent to you, and you will have the opportunity to decide whether or not to provide it. If you choose not to provide any of the Personal Information requested, John Paul AC may be unable to complete your transaction, or provide the information, services or products you have requested.

John Paul AC collects information, including Personal Information, from you when you submit a form or request, or register a product with John Paul AC, such as: name, physical address, the company for whom you work, phone number, email address and fax number, as well as any other Personal Information you provide to John Paul AC. John Paul AC may also ask you to provide information about the product you are registering (e.g. a device identifier) or the person/company that installed or maintains it.

John Paul AC may also collect information through your use of our Websites or Apps, such as device identifiers, IP address, log files, and location data.

Your mobile or internet services providers may have a conflicting privacy position or policy that permits them to capture, use and/or retain your Personal Information when you visit the Website, but John Paul AC is not responsible for and does not control how other parties may collect your Personal Information when you access the Websites or Apps.

Why does John Paul AC collect your Personal Information?

Our purpose in collecting this information is to provide customized services and content relevant to your specific needs and interests. Your information may be used by John Paul AC to carry out our contractual obligations, authenticate you as a user and allow you access to certain areas of our Website, or social media sites or allow you to apply for a position at John Paul AC.

Except where used in support of a contract with you or to fulfil a legal obligation, our use of your Personal Information will be only for legitimate business interests as set out below. Personal Information collected on the Website may be used to:

- Conduct basic business operations, such as communicate with customers and business planning;

- Investigate suspected or actual illegal activity;
- Prevent physical harm or financial loss; or
- Support the sale or transfer of all or a portion of our business or assets (including through bankruptcy).

Your Personal Information will also be maintained and processed by our service providers in the United Arab Emirates.

How does John Paul AC secure Personal Information?

John Paul AC is committed to ensuring the security and integrity of Personal Information. John Paul AC has adopted reasonable physical, technical and administrative procedures to safeguard your Personal Information. However, due to the nature of Internet communications, we cannot guarantee or warrant that your transmission to us is secure.

How long do we keep your Personal Information?

The Personal Information you provide to John Paul AC is only kept for as long as it is reasonably necessary for the purposes for which it was collected, taking into account our need to comply with contractual obligations, resolve customer service issues, comply with legal requirements and provide new or improved products and services to users. This means that we may retain your Personal Information for a reasonable period after you stopped using the John Paul AC Website. After this period, your Personal Information will be deleted from all systems of John Paul AC without notice.

How can you correct, change or delete your information held by John Paul AC?

You may request to access, update, correct, change, or delete your Personal Information at any time. John Paul AC will use reasonable efforts to timely update and/or remove your Personal Information. To protect the user's privacy and security, John Paul AC will take steps to verify the user's identity before making any requested access or change. To access, update, correct, change, or delete your Personal Information, to ask questions or to raise concerns regarding data protection and privacy, send an email to jpcool.ac@gmail.com. Our Website, and social media accounts allow you to make corrections directly at the site without need to further contact John Paul AC.

Please note that while we will assist you in protecting your Personal Information, it is your responsibility to protect your passwords and other access credentials from others.

What should you understand about the third-party links that may appear on this Website?

In some instances, John Paul AC may provide links to non-John Paul AC controlled websites, which John Paul AC will make reasonable efforts to identify as such. John Paul AC does not control such third-party websites, however, and cannot be responsible for the content or the privacy practices employed by other websites. Furthermore, this Privacy Notice does not govern information collected about you by third parties.

How does John Paul AC use cookies or other tracking technologies?

Cookies

John Paul AC may use cookies on this Website. Cookies are small text files sent to and stored on users' computers. We use cookies to allow the Website to recognize repeat users, facilitate users' access to the Website, and allow the Website to compile aggregate data that will allow content improvements. Cookies do not damage users' computers or files. If you do not want cookies to be accessible by this or any other John Paul AC Website, you should adjust the settings on your browser program to deny or disable the use of cookies. However, denying or disabling cookies or similar technology may prevent you from accessing some of our content or using some of the features on the Website. John Paul AC may also use cookies and similar technology placed by one of our business or advertising partners to enable John Paul AC to learn which advertisements bring users to our Website.

In addition, John Paul AC monitors user traffic patterns throughout its Websites according to a user's domain name, browser type, date and time of access, and pages viewed. Our Web servers collect the domain names but not the email addresses of visitors. This information is collected to measure the number of visitors to our Website and to determine which areas of the Website users find useful based upon the amount of traffic to particular areas. John Paul AC uses this information to enhance users' experience at the Website and to better prepare future content based on the interests of users.

Web Beacons

This Website may also use web beacons. A web beacon is usually a pixel on a website that can be used to track whether a user has visited a particular website to deliver targeted advertising. Web beacons are used in combination with cookies, which means that, if you turn off your browser's cookies, the web beacons will not be able to track your activity. The web beacon will still count as a website visit, but your unique information will not be recorded.

Information collected by web beacons may include IP address information (see below). Web beacon information is also used for:

- Advertising and email auditing, and reporting;
- Personalization;
- Site traffic reporting; and
- Unique visitor counts.

IP Addresses

An Internet Protocol (IP) address is a number that is used by computers on the network to identify your computer every time you log on to the Internet.

John Paul AC may collect and keep track of IP addresses to, among other things:

- Maintain Website safety and security;
- Restrict access to our Website to certain users;
- Troubleshoot technical issues; and
- Better understand how John Paul AC Website is used.

Log Files

John Paul AC (or third parties on behalf of John Paul AC) may collect information in the form of log files that are recording Website activities and statistics about web users' habits.

Log files are used for internal purposes only. By using log files, John Paul AC can constantly improve and customize their Website and applications.

The entries help us gather, among other things:

- Internal marketing and demographic studies;
- A user's browser type and operating system;
- Information about a user's session (such as the URL, the date and time our Website was visited and which pages and for how long were viewed on our Website); and
- Other similar navigational or click-stream data.

Social Network Information

Social network information is any information that you permit a third-party social network to share with third party application developers such as John Paul AC. Social network information includes any information that is part of your profile on a third party social network. Such social network may include, but is not limited to, Twitter, Facebook, google+.

To find out how your information from a social network may be obtained by us (or other third-party application developers), please go on the settings page of the relevant social network. Furthermore, you acknowledge that we may use your Personal Information to match information with a social network for advertising purposes.

John Paul AC cannot make assurances about the security of information that you share with third parties, including information you share with social media sites.

How may John Paul AC use location data?

John Paul AC may use location data for location and/or timekeeping purposes for employees or contractors.

In all of these cases, John Paul AC will ask permission to collect your location data and so the collection of this data will be transparent to you – you will have the opportunity to decide whether or not to provide your location data. If you choose not to provide your location data, John Paul AC may be unable to provide the requested service or complete the requested transaction.

What additional information should specific users know?

Parents, Guardians, and Children: Our Apps and Website is intended for visitors who are at least 18 years of age, or the age of majority in their jurisdiction of residence. John Paul AC does not knowingly solicit information from, or market products or services to, children. If you do not meet the age requirements set out above, please do not enter your Personal Information on this or any other John Paul AC Website or Apps.

How might John Paul AC change this Privacy Notice?

As John Paul AC expands and improves its Websites and its Apps, or as legal requirements change, we may need to update this Privacy Notice. This Privacy Notice may be modified from time to time without prior notice. We encourage you to review this Privacy Notice on a regular basis for any changes. The date of the latest version will be identified at the bottom of the policy.

How can you contact John Paul AC?

If you wish to access, correct, update or erase your Personal Information, or if you have questions about John Paul AC's privacy practices in general or a complaint, please email jpcool.ac@gmail.com.

In the event that you are located in a country that is governed by the General Data Protection Regulation and would like to contact the local Data Protection Officer, please note that in your email and your inquiry will be directed to the appropriate person. If you wish to opt-out from sharing your Personal Information with us or have your Personal Information be removed, please email jpcool.ac@gmail.com.
